Glasses found!

On the 13th of February 2008 some glasses were found, they have a light brown and dark brown rim, smart looking and have a narrow lens. If they sound like yours and yours are missing then please collect them from Mrs Crook.

Sainsbury's active kid's vouchers

The Sainsbury's active kids vouchers have started today so keep on shopping!

Maths word of the week

This week's word of the week is median. The median value of a set of data is the numerical value of the piece of data in the middle of the set, when the numbers are in order of size.

Half Term

Today we are breaking up for 12 days so we will be back on Wednesday 27th February. So I hope you have a lovely half term.

Question of the week

This week's question of the week is, in a film of your life what actor or actress would you like to play you?

Ms Nicholson-Taylor - Nicole Kidman
Miss Mayes - Helen Hunt
Mrs Groves - Meryl Streep
Miss Ward - Audrey Hepburn
Mrs Watson - Jennifer Saunders
Mrs Featherstone - Julie Walters

Chinese New Year

This week the children in Otters have been designing things for the Chinese new year, such as lanterns, dragon puppets and a Chinese restaurant! Today they have been making a Chinese feast to celebrate!

HOLIDAY PLAY SCHEME

This week the children were given a letter to take home about the Kent Play Clubs 'Holiday Play Scheme' if you are interested can you return your form to the school office by the 29th February.

Quiz night

There was a very successful quiz night on Friday, 6 teams competed to see if they were smarter than a primary school pupil. It seems the answer was sadly...NO!

Results in reverse order.

6th: score 66

5th: Penny farthings: score 72 $\frac{1}{2}$

4th: All quizzed out: score 83 $\frac{1}{2}$

3rd: Jitterbugs: score 85

2nd: Densa: 97 $\frac{1}{2}$

1st : Guv'nors: 100

Hope you enjoyed it!

The eco-committee

The energy competition has finished and Grizzly Bears will be awarded a lovely plant that Mrs Nicholson-Taylor bought from London. It is very beautiful and will enlighten the class (not that they need it). Thank you to everybody that participated.

Parent's Evening

On Wednesday 27th February it will be parents' evening. So you should give the slips to your parents to know what time to come.

A change in the winds...

A range of pitfalls were planned for, in the days before the new decimal coins were introduced on 15th February 1971.

The new coins $\frac{1}{2}$ p, 1p, 2p, 5p, 10p, 50p-replaced the old pounds, shilling and pence.

There were fears that Ford car workers might strike over changes to drinks vending machines prices.
