Draw and label some of the Roman gods.	Create a fact file about Italy. Include subheadings to separate paragraphs of information, pictures with captions and interesting fact boxes.	Research some different Italian dishes and cook your favourite one for dinner. We would love to see a photo!	Research some Italian/Roman foods. Create a menu for an Italian or Roman restaurant.	Create a model of the Leaning Tower of Pisa, a traditional Roman Villa or the Colosseum.	There were a number of powerful emperors that ruled over Rome. Create a fact file about one of these rulers.
Draw and label some of the Roman weapons that were used by the soldiers.	Design a leaflet or advert for a travel agent's shop, advertising a holiday to Italy. Don't forget to include sightseeing landmarks, currency, weather and climate, as well as a description of the landscapes.	Do some research on the planets in our solar system. Which planets were named after Roman gods. You might want to draw these planets too.	Research some famous Italian artists. Copy some of their most famous artwork and label it to show who the artist is.	Read the story of 'Romulus and Remus' and find out how Rome was founded. Using a ruler to split a page into boxes, create a comic strip to re-tell the story of Romulus and Remus.	What was life like in the day of someone in the Roman Army? Draw and label a Roman soldier. Write some facts about him too. Think about their weapons, clothes, food...
